

I always give more in use value than I receive in cash value in every business transaction.